

PRIORITY 1-54

Street Art in Newhaven

Join our Discovery College Team to get involved and help shape this co-produced 8-week course. The aim will be to create your own graffiti and street art works. Tom Goulden is Priority 1-54's Youth arts educator with over 15 years' experience of using inclusive and creative street art approaches to engage children and young people from all walks of life.

Try everything from spray painting, graffiti pen lettering design, stencilling through to mural art. This creative, nurturing and supported visual arts course could be for individuals of any level who want to meet new people, shape the work we do and try a new arts skill. This course will involve a level of group-working activity and individual supported practice. We'll have 6 late-afternoon sessions in the week, alongside 2 half-day Saturday daytime sessions!

Discovery College is a place for children and young people in East Sussex to have new experiences and learn more about emotional wellbeing and particular mental health challenges. Everything is done in groups with other people who listen without judgement, offer support without being patronising and have an interest in who you are and would like to be. The courses are delivered in co-production with young people and are FREE.
